1. The necessity of doing everything possible to foster anti-United States sentiment among all official classes in Uruguay, and particularly among students and workers, was re-emphasized at a meeting of the Communist Party of Uruguay (CPU) held on 12 February 1949 in Malo, Uruguay.
2. It was pointed out that the expected Communist triumph in China should aid the promotion of anti-United States propaganda. The expectation of the CPU that Marshal Tito and the Yugoslav government will once again be drawn into closer collaboration with Russia was also pointed out as being of great benefit as a propaganda weapon of the CPU.
3. At another CPU meeting on 16 February 1949, it was estimated that the cost of the National Congress of the Communist Party to be held in Montevideo from [redacted] would be 30,000 Uruguayan pesos. To meet this expense, each Agrupacion of the CPU has been assessed 300 pesos. Instructions have been issued to all Agrupaciones to start making plans immediately to collect their quotas through donations or various entertainments, lotteries, and contests sponsored for the benefit of the CPU.
